DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 11/12/2004 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 22, 24 and 49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Thomas F Briody (US 3659552).

Thomas F Briody discloses a reactor vessel of quartz (Fig 1-13 and Col 2 lines 38-41) which would make it transparent to electromagnetic radiation, having a gas supply system (29), induction coils as a source of electromagnetic radiation (41), being barrel type (Fig 1), thermally responsive graphite (Col 1 lines 42-54), susceptor (15 and 16), spaced optimally to allow flow of reactive gases as well as allow them to heat each other (Fig 1), and plurality of pocket to receive substrates (Fig 1).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 50 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Thomas F Briody (US 3659552) in view of Martin et al (US 4579080).

Thomas F Briody discloses a reactor vessel containing thermally responsive graphite (Col 1 lines 42-54) but does not disclose graphite coated by silicon carbide.

Since it is well known that uncoated graphite may allow migration of carbon in to silicon substrate, silicon carbide is frequently used to coat graphite.

Martin et al disclose a reactor vessel containing susceptor made of a thermally responsive material, graphite coated with silicon carbide (Col 7 line 60) heated by induction coils as a source of electromagnetic radiation.

Therefore it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to coat graphite susceptor of Thomas F Briody by silicon carbide in order to prevent migration of carbon.

Response to Amendment

Applicants amendment filed 11/12/2004 have been considered but the arguments are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that Briody shows a round, one piece unit and a susceptor of rings but fails to show adjacent side wall sections with planer surfaces as claimed, since portions other than the recessed portions are curved.

Examiners position is that the structure disclosed by Briody configured for a small number of bigger substrates would appear to have planer side walls sections attached at sides and different from rings separated by spacers. Therefore, structurally there is no obvious difference between the two and functionally none at all.
